I HAVE A DREAM

By Film De Arte

Phillip Eugene Walker-MFA, one of the greatest actors of this period, remembers his evolution through the various art forms. From his school days to OSCAR nomination qualifying documentary experimental film director.

2022 BLACK HISTORY MONTH is not only a video memoir but also a reminder of our history and the power of art. When an actor turns into a director, he manages to give some inspiration to upcoming talents.

Historical Importance

With Film de Arte having designated Alberto Anaya López as its 2022 Best Sound Designer of the Year, this Walker family patriarch's documentary displays that his art travel started from the great "I Have A Dream" speech, which he delivered to his 1968 Southside of Chicago Morgan Park High School total population.

This speech helped him realize his power to perform well in front of a huge audience. Later, it made him confident enough to become a great theatre artist and a good leader. He is an activist who always stands for justice and brings about social reforms through art.

THE AFRICAN AMERICAN DRAMA COMPANY

By Film De Arte

The African American Drama Company, which is still led by Mr. and Dr. Walker, also had some historical importance. The social reforming live play that he solo performed throughout the USA helped common people learn about their current social problems. It was called "Can I Speak For You, Brother?"

As per the title, "This Drama Became the Voice of Common Black People in the USA." Thus, the African American Drama Company created history.

PHILLIP E WALKER - GREATEST PERFORMER

Phillip, one of the world's greatest activists who stands for justice, became an excellent performer in this important historical drama. His character became very impressive because of his excellent method of acting.

"Can I Speak For You Brother?" became popular because it showed the social dilemma presented at that time. Also, it helped people learn about their human rights.

THE HISTORICAL EPIC FILM

Importance of Film

The artistic journey of Walker from school to being a good director was not an easy one. Especially since he always tried to capture justice for other people through his art. Whether it is in film or live theatre, he manages to work hard.

Pictured here, our actor performs with Dan Chumbley for the TONY Award winning San Francisco Mime Troupe. Phil completed the earning of his University of California-Davis Master of Fine Arts terminal acting degree in a formal educational residency, therein.
